

Group Project Guidelines

Value: 15%

Objectives:

- To define the audience, purpose, and topic for an academic composition.
- To produce a clear, coherent, cohesive, academic text with a B2 level of proficiency.
- To build on ideas and detailed arguments related to current events, areas of interest, workplace-related subjects, among others, through the correct application of grammatical structures, technical vocabulary, and academic writing strategies.

Description:

This project consists of the identification of a topic, audience, and purpose for writing an academic composition. The assignment can be developed in groups of 4 people maximum and 2 people minimum. For this task, groups will choose from the following alternatives:

1. Academic Essay (Reaction Paper) *
2. Report on a global issue with multimedia
3. Characters' diary story-retelling
4. Tourist Guide around your city
5. Digital newspaper on technology issues

Second advance (2,5%)

For the second advance the groups are required to include:

1. Cover with names and student IDs of team members
2. Option selected
3. Corrections and suggestions incorporated (if given any)
4. Depending on the alternative chosen:

a. Academic Essay: include an outline for your essay based on the selected prompt given by your teacher in Mediación Virtual. You must follow the template provided, and your Thesis Statement. You must include at least three bibliographic references according to APA 7th edition format.

b. Report on global issue with multimedia: an outline of the information to be included (at least one main idea must be developed per person); if it is a video or animation, you must include an advance of the script (a page per person). You must include at least three bibliographic references according to APA 7th edition format.

c. Character's diary story-retelling: an outline of the main ideas of the story and an advance on the diary's main narratives, at least one page per person (or character).

TM-7100 Grammar & Composition II

Project Guidelines

Prof.: Daniela Gómez Navarrete

d. Tourist guide around your city: an outline of the information to be included (at least one main idea must be developed per person); if it is a video or animation, you must include an advance of the script (a page per person). If it is another type of multimedia, you may include a draft of the tourist guide design to check spelling and grammar. You must include at least three bibliographic references according to APA 7th edition format.

e. Digital newspaper on technology issues: an outline of the information to be included (at least one main idea must be developed per person. You may include a draft of the newspaper design to check spelling and grammar. You must include at least three bibliographic references according to APA 7th edition format.

This project advance must be presented by June 3rd, 2024 through Mediación Virtual. Save the file under the name of team members, and only one member must upload the advance. Use an editable format to submit this advance.